Objectives:

1. Introduce the major funding sources and programs for transportation projects.
2. Discuss how to influence transportation funding and planning to support activity-friendly routes to everyday destinations.

Presenter: Emiko Atherton is the Director of the National Complete Streets Coalition at Smart Growth America. She uses her expertise in transportation policy, public health, land use, economic development, and legislation to consult with communities nationwide on how to create better transportation networks. Emiko is an international voice on Complete Streets and speaks to audiences across the country about the value this approach. Previously, Emiko served as Chief of Staff for a King County Councilmember in Washington State.
