

ASPHN's Healthy Food, Active Communities Council

Our Purpose

To strengthen policy, environmental change, programs and services to promote healthy foods and active communities.

Here's How We Do It

- ✓ PROVIDE LEADERSHIP
On the role and competencies of public health nutrition in healthy food systems and active living environments
- ✓ ADVOCACY
For evidence-based policies, programs, and funding that promote health equity, nutrition and physical activity
- ✓ EXPERTISE
As a trusted resource and partner on policy development, environmental change, evidence-based programs and practices for nutrition and physical activity efforts
- ✓ NETWORKING and COLLABORATION
Between members and partners to build relationships to share experiences and build capacity in one another

Any Member Can Join!

*“Shaping healthy habits
for life.”*

The Healthy Food, Active Communities Council is a council of the Association of State Public Health Nutritionists (ASPHN), a non-profit membership organization. For more information visit:

www.asphn.org or www.facebook.com/asphn