Wisconsin’s CoIN team identified the need for consistent support of workplace lactation efforts throughout the state. Bringing together a team of state and local experts to form the Wisconsin Breastfeeding Coalition worksite committee, they carefully identified and examined the programs offered by local breastfeeding coalitions and researched the work other states were doing in this area. The team was able to enhance efforts for workplace lactation support through the distribution of mini grants to worksites across the state. Recognizing the importance of their work, the committee has received permanent status to continue their work statewide.

METHODOLOGY

- Identified experts and leaders from various disciplines who could assist their effort
- Created a dedicated ad hoc worksite committee of experts
- Conducted PDSA cycling around statewide recognition programs and other states’ programs
- Awarded 10 mini grants in year one and 12 mini grants in year two for local worksites to create or enhance lactation spaces and policies

PARTICIPANTS

- 22 Wisconsin worksites including:
  - birth centers
  - child care centers
  - healthcare clinics
  - health departments
  - libraries
  - schools
  - YMCA
  - YWCA

RESULTS

- Mini grants reached populations experiencing disparities with breastfeeding duration
- Toolkit distributed and posted on the Wisconsin Breastfeeding Coalition webpage for local and tribal health departments
- Approximately 18 worksite policies implemented offering guidelines for lactation space location, use by employees and sustainability
- Wisconsin Breastfeeding Coalition worksite committee voted to become a permanent committee to continue work on statewide efforts

PARTNERS

- Wisconsin Department of Health Services:
  - Chronic Disease Prevention Program
  - Maternal and Child Health
  - MCH Title V Supervisor
  - Quality Improvement Director
  - Health Equity Consultant
